Curriculum Vitae

Karin Högberg, PhD student in health science, is responsible for an intervention project at Sahlgrenska University hospital in Gothenburg, where haematological patients get access to a nurse through a web based communication system. The aim of the research is to reach a deeper understanding about patients' experiences and health outcomes. She has a background from studies and work experiences in nursing and informatics, and since 2001 she teaches and supervises students in scientific theory and methods.
